Hotel McCoy Getting Covered With Beautiful Murals

Located just to the west of Silverlake Road and I-10(720 W. Silverlake Road), the once run down Silverbell Inn is now the Hotel McCoy. Earlier this year the property was purchased by investor Bryan Coggins, with the intent to invest over $2 million into the property. With a new pool and other amenities being installed at what is to be a vintage style hotel, the things that stand out the most are the beautiful murals painted throughout the property. To find out more about the hotel's plans, check out our previous article here. Local artists Joe Pagac, Jessica Contreras, Sean Cannon and Jessica Gonzales, who have also done many murals around Tucson, have definitely left their mark on Hotel McCoy. To find out more about Hotel McCoy, you can visit their website here. As always, let us know what you think of the murals in the comments below!
