

Tucson staycation: 5 local places to relax by the pool

This story was created by #ThisIsTucson and underwritten by Visit Tucson, showcasing the best local staycation deals. Thank you for supporting the local organizations that support us!

It's looking like a staycation summer this year.

And in Tucson, you don't have to venture too far to find a hotel or resort offering majestic mountain views and a cool pool to beat the summer heat.

As with everything, procedures and hotel operations may change throughout the summer.

Many resorts are relaxing their cancellation policies, some in-person dining may be closed or have limited capacity, to-go food options are still available and nearly all spa services are on hold. And most resorts and hotels that previously offered pool day passes are only allowing registered hotel guests to swim.

Here are five local ideas for your next staycation.

Hotel McCoy

Check out some local art and swim in the retro pool with "A" Mountain views with Hotel McCoy's staycation deals for locals only.

Photo courtesy of Hotel McCoy

About the property: Colorful local art, a retro vibe, salt water pool and views of "A" Mountain are all part of the charm of this uniquely Tucson motor hotel on the west side.

Summer specials: Keep an eye on Hotel McCoy's Facebook and Instagram pages every Sunday throughout the summer. That's when new promo codes for locals-only will be announced as part of the hotel's Staycation Sundays deals.

Specials will range from up to 50% off your entire stay to a free bottle of local wine or pool party pack, says creative director Nicole Dahl. The codes are valid from Sunday to the following Saturday, but you can apply the offers to any date through Sept. 30.

Address: 720 W. Silverlake Road

How to book: Go here

Safety plans: Read the hotel's safety procedures here

Most viewed stories

Tucson hotels and resorts are open and ready for summer with new safety measures and cleaning protocols in place. We know everyone is excited to get out of the house and what better way to do that than a summer staycation at one of the local resorts you know and love. Find all of Tucson's best summer deals at VisitTucson.org/Summer.

Join #ThisisTucson today. Members get access to our super secret Facebook group and discounts on merch.